- (4) ‘Non-Financial Services Company’ means a company engaged in businesses other than those specified in clause (3) above;
- (5) ‘Referral Services’ means the arrangement between an RCB and a third party financial product provider, for referring the customers of the bank to the third party financial product provider.
5. All other expressions unless defined herein shall have the same meaning as have been assigned to them under the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 or the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, or any statutory modification or re-enactment thereto, or Glossary of Terms published by RBI or as used in commercial parlance, as the case may be.

Chapter II – General Guidelines

A. Role of the Board

6. The Board of an RCB shall:
- (1) evaluate and approve any proposal to enter into a long-term agreement for undertaking insurance business on a referral basis, upon completion of the initial contract period,
 - (2) approve implementation of customer grievance redressal mechanism for merchant acquisition business,
 - (3) approve a policy on merchant acquisition for card transactions,
 - (4) evaluate and approve a resolution for undertaking insurance business as a corporate agent without risk participation,
 - (5) evaluate and approve resolution for undertaking the business of Pre-paid Payment Instruments (PPIs). Further, it shall have satisfactorily implemented a comprehensive Board approved policy on Customer grievance redressal mechanism which includes escalation matrix for resolution of customer complaints.

B. Investments in Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs)

B.1 General Requirements

7. An RCB's investment policy shall have suitable provisions governing its investments in an AIF Scheme, compliant with extant law and regulations.

B.2 Limits on Investments and Provisioning

8. An RCB shall not individually contribute more than 10 percent of the corpus of an AIF Scheme.
9. The aggregate contribution by all Regulated Entities (REs) in any AIF Scheme shall not be more than 20 percent of the corpus of that scheme.

In this context, 'RE' shall mean:

- (1) Commercial Banks (including Small Finance Banks, Local Area Banks);
- (2) Regional Rural Banks;
- (3) Urban Co-operative Banks;

- (4) State Co-operative Banks / Central Co-operative Banks;
 - (5) All-India Financial Institutions;
 - (6) Non-Banking Financial Companies (including Housing Finance Companies);
10. Where an RCB contributes more than five percent of the corpus of an AIF Scheme that has downstream investment (excluding equity instruments) in a debtor company of the RCB, the RCB shall be required to make 100 percent provision to the extent of its proportionate investment in the debtor company through the AIF Scheme, subject to a cap equivalent to RCB's direct loan and / or investment exposure to the said debtor company.
11. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph 10, where an RCB's contribution is in the form of subordinated units, it shall deduct the entire investment from its capital funds – proportionately from both Tier-1 and Tier-2 capital (wherever applicable).

B.3 Exemptions

12. ²The RBI may, in consultation with the Government of India, by way of a notification, exempt certain AIFs (Annex I) from these Directions on AIF contained in Part B of Chapter II, except for paragraph 7.
